

FOREIGN FLAGS

By Joseph Ramirez

Last Saturday, 24 October, marked the 19th birthday of the United Nations. It was therefore fitting that on that day the seven flags representing the seven foreign nations whose students are now in attendance at PMC, were formally raised. This ceremony took place during Mess II formation directly in front of MacMorland Center. The various flags were raised by the students whose countries are represented.

The flag-raising ceremony was attended by a band box parade and the firing of the cannon. The flags fly in alphabetical order as follows: Nationalist China, hoisted by John Huang; Costa Rica, by Jose R. Quiros; Greece, by Jerry Hionis; Italy, by Albino Moino; Republic of Korea, by Joon Huyoo, Jr.; Lebanon, by George F. Bathish, and Thailand, by Somchai Hiranyasthiti.

These colors will be raised every morning ten minutes after reveille formation and will be lowered ten minutes prior to retreat.

In answer to the question, "What if we should ever have more than seven foreign students here at PMC?" Lt. Hubbard, the originator of the foreign flag idea, answered, "We'll put up more flag poles . . . No, we'll fly two flags on the same pole . . . No, we won't put up all the flags . . . No . . ."

After a few seconds of deep concentration, Lt. Hubbard finally said, "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

S.O.S. Opens With "La Traviata"

By James Stewart

On Sunday, October 11, the Suburban Opera Society (S. O. S.) opened its new season with an excellent performance of Verdi's "La Traviata" in PMC's Alumni Auditorium.

Making her debut with S. O. S. was Miss Elena De Alba. This vibrant young soprano's range and clarity of tone proved more than adequate for the part of Violetta Valery. So impressive was her performance and that of Mr. Thomas O'Leary, whose lyric tenor voice created a thoroughly enjoyable characterization of Alfred Germont, Violetta's lover, that several curtain calls were required at the end of each act to permit the capacity audience to show its appreciation.

Also noteworthy was Mr. Robert Frankenberger's interpretation of the role of Giorgio Germont, Alfredo's father. His rich baritone lent strength to both his role and to the overall performance.

The entire S. O. S. cast did a fine job in the production of this challenging opera. Special mention should be made of Mr. Chris Mactoris, musical director and conductor, and of his excellent orchestra for their fine interpretation of a difficult score.

The S. O. S.'s presentation was rewarding for all in attendance. The high degree of professionalism displayed by all members should make their next appearance at PMC ("La Boheme"—Nov. 23) as successful and as thoroughly enjoyable as was "La Traviata."

Glee Club

By Phillip R. Lakjer

Last year, a man with a plan and a great deal of musical talent joined the staff of PMC as the Director of our Glee Club. The new director, Mr. Joseph J. Salatino, wants a Glee Club that will be as conscientious as our distinguished drill team—the Pershing Rifles. Last year, he immediately endeavored to develop a strong core in his Club, hoping to use this core to further enlarge the unit and anticipating by the end of four years a well experienced group. His accomplished piano accompanist, Mr. Allan J. Brennan, has worked closely with Mr. Salatino; these two men are almost solely responsible for the remarkable development and growth of the Club.

The Glee Club has performed for the American Legion, women's clubs in the Chester area, and various churches. One occasion is especially remembered by last year's club: it had the opportunity to sing at the Patriots' Ball, sponsored by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, in the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia. The guest of honor was our first astronaut, Colonel John Glenn. At the conclusion of the program, Colonel Glenn came backstage and personally congratulated the Cadets on their outstanding performance. The Cadets enjoyed talking informally with Colonel Glenn, as he answered many questions regarding his outer-space experiences. Last year's Club also was invited to sing at the World's Fair, but unfortunately could not accept.

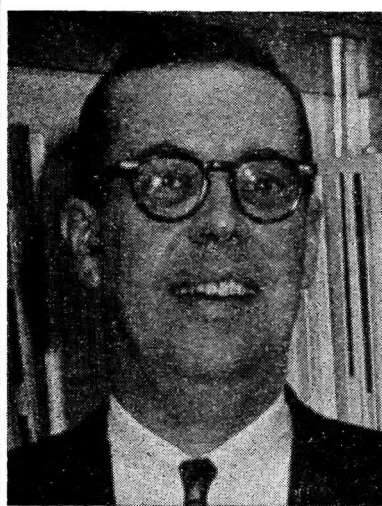

This year the Club promises to rank well among the best clubs of its kind. It has already doubled its enrollment over that of last year's organization. Its members are assisted and encouraged by a fine and co-operative group of officers: the President, Lt. Albert J. Smith; the Vice-President, Mr. Anthony J. DelVacchio; and the Librarian, Cadet Jack Avrich.

The Glee Club is open to anyone who likes to sing. The club meets for practice on Monday evenings, from 6:45 until 8:00 p.m. in the Alumni Auditorium. The last opportunity for new members to join will be Monday evening, November 2nd.

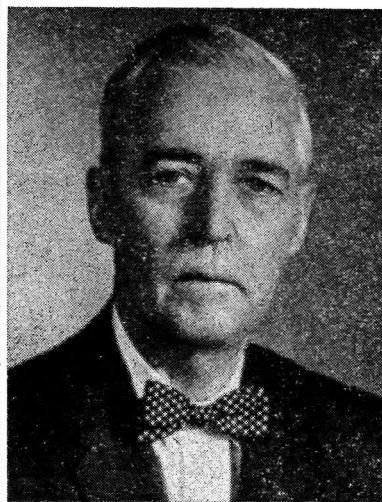

Center To Be Dedicated During Parents' Weekend Andrews Featured Speaker

As the highlight of Parents' Weekend, Nov. 7, MacMorland Center will be formally dedicated by President Emeritus, Maj. Gen. E. E. MacMorland. Dr. Clarence R. Moll, President, and Mr. L. P. Sharples, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of PMC, will aid in the ceremonies.

Mr. Max H. Andrews, Director of the Loeb Student Center at New York University will give the keynote address. Long active as a student union director, Mr. Andrews has an impressive educational and occupational background. Chester Mayor James Gorbey; Mr. Louis Agnes, representing the builders of the center; Mr. Robert Panel, representing the architects will also participate in the affair.

Chief College Chaplain, Rev. James H. Guy will deliver the invocation and benediction. The PMC band will play several selections to complete the ceremony, which will be followed by a luncheon.

In the few short weeks since its opening, the MacMorland Center has become the hub of all campus activities. Informally known to all as the "College Center," it is to both Day and Night Students a welcome place to meet or study, and to Cadets, a real second home.

True College Center

Extremely diversified, the Center integrates the services of library, office building and shopping center into one complete whole. Two lounges provide a place to study or take a brief respite from a grueling pace; there are special listening rooms for those who wish to relax further with their favorite records. A snack bar and two cafeterias offer surprisingly delicious meals to both military and non-military personnel. The Bookstore is not just that, but sells "everything from carpet tacks to Cadillacs" (well . . . almost). A large Post Office delivers to Cadets those two essential commodities, a letter from the girl back home and a check from the parents back home.

Besides various offices, a barber shop, and sundry other things housed in MacMorland Center, there is the Game Room, through whose portals everyone at PMC eventually passes.

The Center is named in honor of Maj. Gen. Edward Elliot MacMorland. Few realize that Gen. MacMorland is as much responsible for the astounding growth of PMC as his immediate successor, our own Dr. Moll, who has so admirably continued the growth begun by his predecessor.

Gen. MacMorland was PMC's sixth

PMC Holds Mock Election

Balloting for the PMC Mock Election will be held across from the game-room desk in the basement of MacMorland Center on Thursday, October 29. Under the supervision of the Penrose Republican Club and the Young Democrats Club, the polls will remain open from 8:50 A.M. until 4:30 P.M.

All PMC students, the Administration, the Faculty, the Staff, and Maintenance employees are eligible to cast a vote in the election. Cadets will be permitted to wear campaign buttons on election day.

Two Ballots To Be Used

Each voter will cast two ballots; one a primary preference ticket and the other a partisan ticket. The primary preference ticket will consist of a list of the six major presidential-nominee contenders from both the Republican and the Democratic parties. On this ballot, the voter will choose from the list of twelve men that man whom he would like to see as President. The following names will appear on the primary ballot:

Democratic

Lyndon B. Johnson
Hubert Humphrey
Robert Kennedy
Adlai Stevenson
George Wallace
Sargent Shriver

Republican

Barry Goldwater
Richard Nixon
William Scranton
Nelson Rockefeller
Henry Cabot Lodge
George Romney

Four Major Races on Ballot

The partisan ballot will be divided into four sections. On the first section of the ballot the voter will vote for the presidential and vice-presidential offices. On part two of the ballot, incumbent U. S. Senator Hugh Scott, Republican from Pennsylvania; defends his post against the Philadelphia Democrat, Miss Genevieve Blatt. This section of the ballot should prove of special interest since it brings up the old question: Women in politics? This issue was considered in this summer's primary campaign by Margaret Chase Smith for the presidential nomination of the Republican Party.

The much talked about New York Senatorial race between incumbent Republican Senator Kenneth Keating and Democrat Robert Kennedy will form the third part of the partisan ballot. Keen interest in this race was brought about by Robert Kennedy's swift change of residence and his decision to run for the U. S. Senate. The fourth part of the partisan ballot will be of special interest to Delaware County residents. This will involve the race between Dr. Leonard Bachman, the Democratic nominee, and Mr. Robert Watkins, the Republican nominee for the U. S. House of Representatives.

Tallying Votes

In order to indicate the trends in the various divisions of PMC, the voting results will be listed in five categories: Cadet, Civilian, Faculty, Administration, Staff, and Maintenance. A final total of all votes cast will be tallied to determine the overall victors on each ballot.

The Mushroom

By Joon Yoo

(Mr. Yoo is a PMC Student from the Republic of Korea.)

In October the cold winds from Siberia begin to blow across the paddy fields of Korea and northern Hokkaido. Farmers in their thin white clothes shiver slightly as they start from home to the paddy for the day's long labor.

This October the Siberian winds carry the ominous waste particles of the big mushroom which sprouted into the atmosphere in the central Chinese province of Sinkiang.

Fall-out is one of the few terms which the Korean farmers are familiar with in the confusion of modern phraseology. Because they draw their water from wells and fountains, they are aptly warned by the government to be careful about the contents of their water after the rains these days.

The farmers grimace and mumble a few swear words for this additional burden to their daily cares, and government authorities busy themselves preparing an adequate statement in regard to China's atomic explosion. Then China's neighbors, sensitive about her accomplishment because of their geographical contiguity, issue their comments.

Tokyo is sorrowful. New Delhi is critical. Pyongyang, Hanoi, and the Pathet Lao forces, conversely, praise the accomplishment and bask in China's reflected glory. And South Korea, which once fought face to face with the Chinese Red Army in their peninsula tries to discount it.

Aside from the great powers, who may easily dismiss or discount the question as falling within the general context of concern over nuclear proliferation in the coming decade, the impact of the explosion on Asians, and particularly the Chinese themselves, cannot be dismissed easily.

The Japanese are the first to be concerned about the balance of power in the Far East. Just as it is true in Western Europe that one day America may wish to compromise with the rising expectations of nationalistic elements, so it is true with America's Far Eastern allies, and they must be concerned about their own security. India's disfavor has been unequivocal; they live with the threat of Chinese aggression just beyond their northern mountains.

But the most significant impact of the atomic test has been on the seven hundred million Chinese people themselves. After the failure of "the great leap forward," their economic prospects were blurred with large question marks by outside observers. Now all their complex problems are ignored, albeit temporarily in their exultation over this achievement by their scientists.

From the years of the opium wars, international disgrace has been the bitter fare of the Chinese. Mao Tse-tung once swore, "Never again will China be disgraced before the eyes of the world." From the long ago days of a revolutionary's life in the remote caves of Yennan, Mao has achieved the peak of personal glory, and has forced his country back to a position of prestige and international significance.

Cloak and Dagger Invaded by Co-eds

By Jean Paul Malle

With a mixture of cadets and civilians, the Cloak and Dagger presentation of "Our Town" to be presented on 6 and 7 November will also include five co-eds from the Chester area. The petite and lovely Elizabeth Garifales, attending PMC for both the day and evening classes, lends us her invaluable time. Carol Regent, a working girl for Bell Telephone, quietly enralls the cast with her beauty. Adding her youth and charm to the cast is Patty McLaughlin, who projects her talent well. A nutty feline, who adds gaiety to the rehearsals, is Dolores Gavaletz. Carol Belczyk, a busy school teacher, leaves her children and enhances the stage with her grace and charm. Sound like a beauty contest? They're even more entrancing under the stage lights.

The male cast includes Roger Nicholls, Jr., Brook Koons, Pat Little, Art Dougherty, Dick Hall, Andrew Ham, Sam Mennes, John Eldridge, John Buckley, Steve Mellish, John Battalino, Doug Burnett, Al DeOrio, George Tittman, Reynolds Comstock; and, of course, the director, to whom a great deal of credit and appreciation is given, Professor Edwin Kubach.

The Play

In the first act Thornton Wilder outlines the history of the town, Grover's Corners, N. H., and something of the character of its citizens. Then he carries you into the houses of the Gibbs and Webb families, substantial homes containing substantial folks. You arrive at breakfast time and are led through one entire day in the lives of these good people.

The second act concerns the love affair between young George Gibbs and little Emily Webb, and culminates in a moving wedding scene, which contains all those elements of poignant sorrow and abundant happiness that make for solemnity and impressiveness.

In the third act you are taken to the cemetery on the hill, where many of the townspeople you have come to know so well are patiently and smilingly awaiting not "judgment," but greater understanding. Into their midst the bride is led, a bit timid at first, a little wishful to go back to life, to live again with her memories. But she is shown how impossible, how futile it is to return. The past cannot be relived. Human beings, concerned with their petty occupations and small thoughts, know little of joy or happiness. Truth is to be found only in the future.

From the President's Desk

I will be attending a meeting of the Reserve Officer Policy Board on R.O.T.C. Affairs on 15 December 1964. At this meeting we plan to discuss the implementation of the new R.O.T.C. bill as related to all three services. At that time it is expected that each of the three services will have presented its plan for implementing the bill. The board is an advisory body which will make recommendations through the Department of Defense.

In addition to myself, the board is composed of Dr. George C. S. Benson, Chairman of Claremont Men's College; Dr. C. Clement French, President of Washington State University; Mr. Reuben A. Holden, Secretary of Yale University; Mr. Benjamin E. Lippincott, Professor of Military Science at the University of Minnesota; Dr. Herbert E. Longenecker, President of Tulane University; Dr. John D. Millet, President of Miami University, in Ohio; The Very Rev. Paul C. Reinert, S. J., President of Saint Louis University; and Dr. Edgar F. Shannon, Jr. President of the University of Virginia.

Board of Trustees to Hold Retreat

The Board of Trustees of PMC will hold a retreat on Friday and Saturday, 20-21 November 1964 at the Seaview Country Club in Absecon, New Jersey. The purpose of this retreat is to map out long-range goals of the College in educational patterns as well as physical aspects. Other topics to be discussed include admission practices, the cluster college concept, progress in academic organization, plans for campus development, building progress, and fund raising activities.

The Members of the Board of Trustees are: Mr. Laurence P. Sharples, President; Mr. Stuart H. Raub, Jr., Vice President; Mr. Chalmer G. Kirkbride, Vice President; Morton Jenks, Treasurer; Mr. John R. Hanna, Secretary; Mr. William Craemer, Mr. Clarence H. Thayer, Mr. Lloyd Goman, Mr. Salvatore Giordano, Mr. H. Fairfax Leary, Jr., Mr. J. Harry Labrum, Mr. Caesar A. Grasselli, Mr. Albert M. Greenfield, Mr. F. Eugene Dixon, Mr. J. Newton Pew, Mr. Lewis L. Colasurdo, Mr. Cortright Wetherill, Mr. Harold L. Yoh, and Mr. Eldridge R. Johnson.

GERMAN CLUB

By Jerry DeLuca

Since its inception, the German Club had been maintained as one of the top cultural activities on campus. Suddenly club interest ceased to exist, and the "Von Steuben Senioren Konvent" (official title given to the organization) slipped beneath the waves and came to rest on the bottom of a sea of obscurity. This has been the fate of many other such clubs, which, although listed on the rolls, remain inactive.

Recently, however, an attempt, which it is hoped will be successful, has been made to raise the club from those depths, and bring it to a position of prominence. This is now being done by Professor H. W. Roehler, the original organizer of the club, and various members of the club led by President Walter Hricay and Vice Pres. Michael Soroker.

Planned activities are to include:

1. A visit to the Von Steuben Museum in Valley Forge, November 21. This trip will be made on a Saturday morning. All students wanting additional information concerning this are advised to see Professor Roehler in his office at the German building.
2. A party at Professor Roehler's house in December.
3. A guest speaker in January (topic to be chosen by the club).
4. Meetings to be held 6th period on Thurs. (once a month).

This club is not designed primarily for the further study of the grammatical aspects of the German language; rather, it is to be an effort towards understanding the heritage, culture, economics, foreign policy, and philosophy of a leading world power.

PMC Holds Homecoming

By Dan Shoemaker

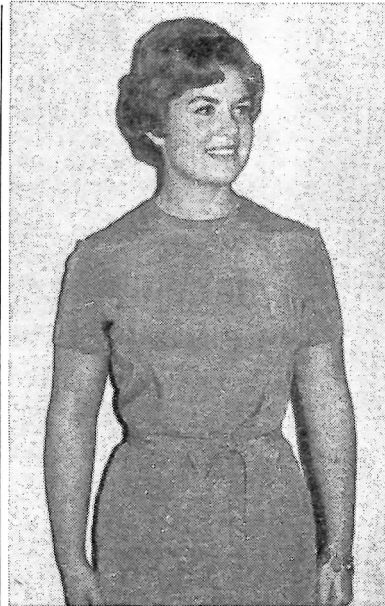

Homecoming at PMC began early Friday evening, October 23, and lasted until early the following Sunday morning, October 25. Festivities began with a parade through Sun Hill and other residential areas adjacent to the College. Armed variously with shaving cream, whipped cream, egg-shaped projectiles (eggs), and wearing pajamas, both four class cadets and civilian freshmen paraded in an "organized chaos" formation.

A bonfire-rally climaxed the evening. The football team was introduced and school songs were sung. Civilians carried several Civilian Control Group members around the bonfire — after dousing them with shaving cream. Things were kept popping by the addition of shaving cream cans and firecrackers to the bonfire. When the fire had died, students began decorating the campus for the arrival of the Alumni the following morning. Work continued far into the night.

Alumni and Queen Arrive

On Saturday the Alumni arrived, and complete with wives, children, and bewildered smiles, they reported to the Alumni Auditorium for name tags and instructions. While the Alumni renewed old friendships and began new ones, the Queen and her Court were touring the campus, judging the various exhibits. Company "C" was awarded first prize for its exhibit.

Imaginatively constructed the "C" Company's exhibit depicted a thirty foot cadet repeatedly stabbing a huge, prostrate Red Devil with his own trident. Second prize went to Theta Chi which also depicted a dead Red Devil. This time, Satan was laid out on a marble slab with a sabre implanted firmly in his chest. "E" and "F" Companies won third prize for their huge football shoe stomping a Red Devil.

The Queen and her Court

Several weeks before Homecoming, nomination forms for Queen had been distributed about the campus. Out of fourteen entries, a committee of Student Council members picked five semi-finalists. They were Rosemary Albano, submitted by Gene Connard; Kathi Kerwin, submitted by Walt Clayton; Jean Carr, submitted by William Buckley; Janalyn Davidson, submitted by Carl Gerhing; and, Linda Schartner, submitted by Larry Cox.

After an informal tea and personal interviews, a committee composed of Bernard McCormick, Daily Times reporter; Mrs. James H. Gorbey, wife of Mayor Gorbey; Mr. Arthur Garner, and Mr. Al Oppenheim selected Linda Schartner as Homecoming Queen.

Miss Schartner is twenty years old, and lives in Prospect Park, Penna. She is a junior at West Chester State Teachers College, where she is majoring in health and physical education.

Prizes Announced

Half-time in the football game the Queen and her Court, arriving in convertibles, were formally introduced to the Alumni and undergraduates. Each girl in the Queen's Court was presented with a trophy. A larger trophy was presented to the Queen. Miss Schartner said: "Thanks seem so inadequate, but I can think of nothing else to express what I feel."

Immediately after the game, a hootenany was held for the undergraduates in the Armory. The Alumni held a Victory Celebration at the new Media Inn Motor Lodge in Media. At 6:00 P.M. a dinner was held for the Queen and Her Court, and invited guests in MacMorland Center.

Homecoming was concluded with a dance in MacMorland Center. Music was provided by Paul Edwards and his orchestra.

Tentative Schedule for Military Week-end

A tentative schedule has been planned for the Military Week-end to be held 13-15 November 1964. Included in the week-end will be an Honor Guard, Dedication, and a Cadet Officers Dining-In Ceremony to be held on Friday. Other highlights of the program include a review by the Corps of Cadets in honor of General Creighton W. Abrams, Jr., Vice Chief of Staff, United States Army and a Military Ball to be held on Saturday. General Abrams will attend activities during the weekend. On Friday, Lt. Colonel George S. Patton, Jr. will dedicate the World War II tank presently located in front of the Armory. Colonel Patton is currently a student at the United States Army War College at Carlisle Barracks.

Also attending the week-end activities will be three Cadet representatives of the United States Military Academy, West Point; two Cadet representatives of North Georgia College; four Cadet representatives of Norwich University; and, four Cadet representatives of Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Sunday Parade

On Sunday, 1 November 1964 there will be a parade at 1500 hrs. The reviewing officer for this parade will be Major General Frank H. Britton, Deputy Commanding General, Second United States Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

Maj. Gen. Frank H. Britton

General Britton was born in Shreveport, Louisiana in 1909. He entered the United States Military Academy in 1928, and graduated with the class of 1932. Upon graduation, he was assigned to the 8th Cavalry at Fort Bliss, Texas. Upon completion of his tour of duty with the 8th Cavalry in 1936, he was assigned as an instructor at the Academy.

During World War II, General Britton served in both the European and Pacific theatres of operation. He served with Headquarters Fifth U. S. Army in Italy. Later he served with General Headquarters, Southwest Pacific and moved to Japan with General MacArthur's occupation forces. In 1947 he returned to the States as a member of the War Department General Staff.

In 1949 he attended the Armed Forces Staff College, and in 1951 the Army War College. In 1952 he was transferred to Europe where he served

Fraternity News

Alpha Sigma Phi

On Saturday, October 17, members of Alpha Sigma Phi, with their fathers, attended the Father and Son Banquet. After the meeting, the sons and dads returned to the house for a social hour.

The organization finished the rushing period with twenty-four pledges. John Brientnall and Donald Henderson are the trainees and it is anticipated there will be an excellent class added to the membership.

The social committee has been busy planning for the Homecoming week-end. There will be many alumni members calling at the house. Last year Gamma XI won first place for Homecoming decorations. Jack McTaggart is chairman of the Decorations Committee. Plans are also being made for the Atlantic City football game, in arranging a social for the weekend.

At the last open house mixer dance, the affair was led with enthusiastic music from Mike Hernandez and his PMC Cadet Band. The fraternity will hold another open mixer dance, for a small donation, at the house this week. An invitation is extended to all PMC students to attend.

In the present membership there are four members serving on the civilian board, one on Student Council, and ten serving the Civilian Control group. PMC chapter, Society for Advancement of Management has three officers who are members of Gamma XI. Two officers of the Society of Automotive Engineers — Robert Fetcher, Treasurer, and John McGraw, Secretary, are brothers. We are happy to have ten brothers on the various varsity teams of the college.

During the past summer, fifteen members committed themselves to the "I do" promise of matrimony. There are presently five brothers who have announced their engagements for this "future contract."

The Omicron Chapter, University of Pennsylvania, invited the PMC chapter to its party on October 17th at their house in West Philadelphia. The brothers who attended had a very enjoyable evening. Rutgers University chapter has also extended an invitation to Gamma XI chapter for a week-end social. Tulane University chapter has asked our group to its house and to attend the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. Some of the PMC members plan to visit the chapter.

U.S.M.C. On Campus

Representatives of the United States Marine Corps will visit Pennsylvania Military College to talk to prospective candidates on 19-20 November.

All Cadets and civilians interested in becoming officers or pilots in the Marine Corps are urged to see the recruiting officer in the snack bar.

with Headquarters Allied Forces, Central Europe until 1955. He was then returned to the States as Deputy Chief of Staff, III Corps with EXERCISE SAGEBRUSH. At the close of the exercise, he was reassigned to the Career Management Division, Department of the Army. General Britton assumed duties as Deputy Commanding General, Second United States Army, Fort Meade, Maryland on 13 April 1964.

TKE

The start of the 64-65 School year finds the crux of the gridiron starting eleven in Theta Lambda. They are: Frank Pellegrini, Joe Carter, Clark Wonderland, Leo Pelleriti, Bob Grousch, Pete Rohana, Larry Geter, John Grant, and Bill Calhoun. Other vital team members in TKE are: Chuck Grove, Richie Swartzman, Dom Garutto, and Jerry Johnson. We look forward to a successful season, and wish all the Greek Luck to these brothers of the Olympiad.

The pledge season has begun in earnest, with house renovation and numerous social functions planned. The prospects are excellent for an overall increase in brotherhood strength.

The brotherhood would like to extend its best wishes and blessings to Papa Dom, whose wife gave birth to a baby girl on 21 September 1964.

Congratulations are in order for the College officials whose fine contributions to our campus, MacMorland Center and New Dorm #6, will forever remind us of the necessity for growth of both mind and material.

Theta Chi

The brothers of Theta Chi are beginning another year on the PMC Campus. Holding the John R. Cellucci best Fraternity award the past two years, the brothers are working hard to retain it for the third year.

A select group of ten pledges from the Sophomore and Junior Classes will bolster the brotherhood's rolls to more than seventy in the coming year.

Mrs. Francis Matthews has been elected Mrs. Theta Chi and Ray Ronchetti, an alumnus, was elected best senior brother for 1963-1964. Steve Kauffman, another senior brother, is working towards the coordination of fraternity activities as the president of the inter-fraternity council.

The fraternity calendar for the coming year includes many social and civic activities such as the mixers held during rush week and the drive for the United Fund.

Cultural Affairs

After an informative talk on Russia by Dr. Earl F. Sykes, President of West Chester College, the PMC Cultural Affairs Program moves to a political seminar, a choral concert and a dramatic production by the Cloak and Dagger.

On October 30, PMC will host the Regional meeting of the Pennsylvania Political Science and Public Administration Association. This event will include two major forums on the Supreme Court and the Common Market and will include scholarly papers and discussion by many of the leading political scientists in the area.

On Nov. 5th, the Temple University Choral Group under the direction of Dr. Robert Page will give a concert in the Alumni Auditorium, and the following night, Cloak and Dagger will open a two night stand with their version of "Our Town."

Mr. Garner Discusses MacMorland Center

By Jerry DeLuca

Mr. Art Garner, the Director of MacMorland Center recently discussed with the DOME PMC's new expansion program.

Mr. Garner is beyond a doubt one of the busiest men on campus. His position involves responsibility for the operation of the entire Center, with the exception of the School Store, the Food Service, and the Barber Shop, which are run independently on a lease basis. In addition to his regular duties, Mr. Garner is now working with Colonel Cottee, the Dean of Student Personnel, as the Coordinator of Student Activities. Among other things, the job involves providing facilities to recognized campus organizations.

Mr. Garner said that the canteen has been vastly improved through the installation of vending machines and other related pieces of equipment. He also stated that plans for future expansion in the canteen and gameroom are under consideration, but that the extent to which they are carried out will depend entirely upon the interest shown by the student body. Concerning recreational expansion, he stated that tournaments in pocket billiards, table tennis, and shuffle board will be held under the sponsorship of the Association of College Unions. The winners will compete in a regional tournament, and if successful will eventually go on to the national tournament.

Mr. Garner stressed the fact that equipment for passive recreation such as checkers, chess, cribbage, and scrabble is also available at the game room.

president, serving from 1953 to 1959. Under his leadership, the College, on the verge of bankruptcy, was returned to a sound financial footing. An Evening Division was begun; by 1959, enrollment had reached 650. Not only did he greatly increase the effectiveness of the Corps of Cadets as a military organization but he also increased their number to more than 800. Three new dormitories were built under his administration.

But Gen. MacMorland did not only improve the physical plant. Academic standards were up graded and probation rules made more strict. During his presidency, PMC was accredited for the first time in its 139-year history by the Middle States Association.

Ordnance Specialist

Born in Kansas City, Missouri, July 22, 1892, the General received his B.A. with honors from the University of Missouri; he won his M.A. from Princeton. Gen. MacMorland entered military service in 1916 as a second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery Corps. A veteran of both wars, he served in European and Pacific theaters of operations.

Among many other positions, Gen. MacMorland was commander of the Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia from 1946 to 1948; Chief of the Ordnance Division of the European Command from 1948 to 1950; and Commander of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds from 1950 to 1952.

Upon retirement from the Army in 1953, he was asked by the PMC Board of Trustees to accept the presidency of the College. He accepted, and after six outstanding years in this post, the General was awarded a degree in humane letters upon his retirement in 1959.

Fully retired now, General MacMorland is very active in community affairs, especially the Red Cross and the Community Arts Center in Wallingford, Pennsylvania, where he now resides.

Mr. Andrews

Born in Ellsworth, Maine, May 9, 1923, Mr. Andrews now lives in Westport, Connecticut, with his wife and two sons. He holds a B.S. and the rest of his impressive academic pedigree includes studies at the Sorbonne, Harvard, and Purdue.

Between 1947 and 1950, he was a director of athletics at various institutions, including the Connecticut State Prison. Since 1950, he has been the director of several student unions. His directorship at the Loeb Center began in 1957.

Mr. Andrews is extremely active in the Association of College Unions—International. Included in his long list of offices in this organization are many chairmanships of various committees, and the Presidency of the Association for the 1963-1964 term.

But this is not his only activity. He manages a Little League team in Westport and is also a Troop Committeeman for Troop 36, B.S.A. He is consultant to many organizations as diverse as the President's Council of Physical Fitness, and the organizers of seventeen college unions.

Mr. Andrews served with the Army Air Force in the European Theater. He was both a gunner and radio operator with the rank of first sergeant.

Remember that to change thy mind and to follow him that sets thee right, is to be none the less the free agent than thou wast before.

English Club

The organizational meeting of the PMC English Club will be held in MacMorland Center, 4 November, at four o'clock in the afternoon. At the meeting, the members will discuss plans for the year which include a Foreign Film Festival to be given on campus; the publication of a PMC Literary Magazine; and group trips to local movies, plays, concerts, and art exhibitions. The English Club is interested in increasing its membership this year and hopes that anyone who is interested in this worthwhile organization will attend the meeting.

Cadets Aid In Election

Cadet members of the Penrose Republican Club and the Young Democrats Club will participate in activities at the Delaware County Election Return Center in Media on Tuesday, 3 November.

Representatives will be working all day in shifts. There will be a minimum of ten cadets on duty throughout the day from 10:45 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. The duties will include adding returns and posting them on a board provided for this purpose. This activity will be run on a bi-partisan basis.

STEP FORWARD WITH FORD MOTOR COMPANY

An Open Letter to the 1965 College Graduate from Donald N. Frey, Assistant General Manager, Ford Division of Ford Motor Company

Donald N. Frey was awarded a bachelor's degree in metallurgical engineering by the University of Michigan in 1947 and a doctorate in 1950. One year later, he joined Ford Motor Company as manager of the Metallurgical Department in the Scientific Laboratory. In 1962, Dr. Frey was appointed assistant general manager of the Ford Division with responsibility for all engineering, product planning and purchasing activities. He is 41 years old.

America's automobile industry is in the midst of a challenging era, with prospects of an even more exciting and demanding tempo in the years to come. Ford Motor Company is determined to achieve leadership in all phases of its operation. This leadership promises to bring lasting success to the company, its employes and its stockholders.

It will take people to accomplish this objective. Engineering, finance, styling, marketing, product planning, sales—all require people with the knowledge, judgment and personal drive to avail themselves of the unprecedented opportunities offered by a great industry.

The automobile business is growing. More cars are being bought now than ever before. With increases in population and consumer buying power, even more will be bought in the future. Realizing this, Ford Motor Company seeks to attract college graduates who have the capacity to grow with the company and the market.

Right now, our plans call for employing about a thousand of the best 1965 graduates we can find, with all types of educational backgrounds. We need specialists, but we also need persons with broad liberal-arts training who can handle a wide variety of assignments. Actually, in our company, many graduates grow into jobs totally unrelated to their degrees. They have discovered that Ford offers intellectually challenging opportunities for those with the ability to seize them. We invite you to make the same discovery.

Contact your Placement Office and arrange to see our representative.

PMC Has Perfect Homecoming, Beats Dickinson, 7-3

It was a perfect day for football as PMC scored early on an 18-yard pass play from quarterback Bill Yarnall to Frank Pellegrini and then held on with a tremendous defensive effort to hand Dickinson its second loss in a row.

PMC's touchdown was set up on an interception by Joe Carter who ran to the Dickinson 20. Dickinson was stopped cold on several drives toward the goal line. Each time they were stopped either by a costly fumble or intercepted pass. In each of these instances the PMC defense sparkled.

Irons Sets Record; Harriers Down Dickinson

Dave Irons, did it again on Saturday. Never threatened after the mile point, the King poured it on over the 5.3 mile Chester Park Course to set a new PMC record. Dave broke the old record of 28.18 by 45 seconds. The old record had been previously held by the coach, Skip Dougherty. By winning the race, Irons assured himself a berth in the National Collegiate Championships to be held next month.

Following Irons across the finish line were four other PMC runners, co-captain Marty Reid, Dave Driscoll, Charlie McCoy, and Pat Little. It was Dickinson's first loss of the season. PMC remained undefeated in the MAC Conference Standings.

Your representative owes you, not his industry only, but his judgment; and he betrays instead of serving you if he sacrifices it to your opinion.

Notes 'n Quotes

Frosh football got off to a good start (finally) by beating F&M. They really got fired up after F&M scored first. I had to leave after that first score, and in my mind I figured that F&M looked too good. I was pleasantly surprised to hear of the victory later in the locker room.

There is no doubt in anyone's mind that it was a well-planned football game the Varsity played against Moravian. I overheard many fine comments about the game at the Father & Son Banquet, and if one didn't know who had won, he would have thought PMC had.

While the football team was getting bogged down in the mud in Chester, the PMC cross-country team slipped, slid, and floundered to win one race, and then lose its first, a heartbreaker, to Temple University. The team's fourth victim of the season was Moravian College which was able to place only two men in the top ten runners. However, the hard team was Temple, which brought the sodden swifties their first loss of the season 25-30. First man for PMC was Dave Irons.

Moravian, with the exception of the cross-country defeat, made it a bad weekend for PMC when the soccer team was defeated by them. However, Robbie's Raiders bounced right back with a fine victory over Rutgers, 6-2. Ray Paradise was the big scorer with three of PMC's goals.

The following are the standings in the Intramurals as of the end of the third week in October. At this point, the outstanding team in Soccer is Headquarters Company which is unscored upon in three games. In Football, Staff remains in first place, undefeated. The Civilian Student "Team A" remains unscored upon while Delta Company has piled up 39 points in five games. The standings are as follows:

Football
	Won	Lost
Staff	3	0
Alpha	4	1
Civilian A	3	1
Delta	3	2
Civilian B	3	2
Foxtrot	3	2
Bravo	2	3
Civilian C	2	4
Echo	1	4
Charlie	0	3

Soccer
	Won	Lost
HQ	3	0
Foxtrot	3	0
Charlie	1	1
Bravo	1	2
Civilian A	1	2
Echo	0	3
Delta	0	3

Halftime of the football game Saturday saw the running of the Intramural Cross-country race. Starting on the 50-yard line, the runners covered a distance of two miles for the course.

First man to cross the line was Senior Greg Allen of Echo Company. Not far behind him was Frosh Bill Lucas of Bravo Company.

In overall point totals, the top three teams were:

1. Echo Company.
2. Charlie Company.
3. Headquarters Company.
