

RANGER PLATOON

Company Commander — W. Symolon
Executive Officer — G. Dennis
Platoon Leader — D. Isom
Faculty Advisor — Capt. Douglas Detlie

Ranger John Finn demonstrates reverse hip throw with Dick Ferguson.

Left to right, bottom row: J. Peterson, E. Marolda, R. Durkin, R. Ferguson, M. Torres and J. Mc-Bride. TOP ROW: D. Isom, R. Chamberlain, J. Phillips, G. Beauregard, J. Finn, N. Kuzo, D. Earl, D. Grealish, F. Moll, R. Hostrup, T. Cleary, R. Borton, and H. Grueterich.

Ranger Platoon.

Proficiency with the bayonet is one of the many requirements of the P.M.C. Ranger Platoon.

T. Cleary, D. Grealish, G. Beauregard, R. Hostrup, M. Marolda, R. Durkin.

Ranger R. Ferguson parries Ranger R. Durkins' short thrust.

PRECAMP — 1965

Fort Dix, New Jersey

I wouldn't worry too much, you could always go AG.

Maybe if you pulled the trigger?

Did you really have to stick your thumb in my potatoes?

Did anyone ever tell you that you had a nice ankle?

This is a target; that is an instructor.

You don't remember me God, but . . .

You may outrank me this year Jones, but just wait . . .

Get the flag, Joe.

I'm sure that's where you put the bullet.

They really know what they're doing.

Yes dear; no dear; yes, I brushed my teeth.

Know anybody interested in a 3.5?

What do you mean, I can't have more potatoes?

Men, we are gathered here today. . . .

Are you sure you don't want your contract?

What do you mean you won't follow me across a mine field?

Are you sure #3 fired?

I wonder what my girl is doing tonight?

We'll wait just five more minutes for them to show up.

What do you mean, I'm dead?

Then he started to bleed . . .

I wonder if I could go non-combative.

At pre-camp, practical lessons in leadership were taught.

At least it's not Slater food.

It looks like it's going to be a long, hot, summer.

I don't care if it is Capt. Kennedy!

Maybe you should go Signal.

Hey, he hit it this time!

PASS IN REVIEW

Cdt. Capt. W. Symolon leads the Bgd. Staff off the Horseshoe.

Color Guard prepares to march on.

Cdt. Capt. C. Eichenberg leads B Co. on to the Parade Field.

Cdt. Capt. W. Duthie leads C Co. on to the Parade grounds.

HQ Company marches on line.

"Sound Off."

The Corps on line.

"Eyes Right."

Col. Menard, Col. Schaubel and guest, Mr. D. Lees of the Parents Association.

The reviewing party prepares to inspect the Corps.

"Pass in Review."

Myron H. Wardell leads his platoon past staff.

Cdt. Capt. S. Alinkoff leads A Co. off the field.

The Corps returns for dismissal, in front of Old Main.

MILITARY BALL WEEKEND

The Military Ball Weekend began with the arrival of cadets and midshipmen from various colleges and universities throughout the country. Friday evening, PMC cadet seniors, and their guests, attended a Dining-In ceremony in Media, Pa. Saturday morning a review was held in honor of the visitors. That afternoon the visitors joined PMC cadets in the stadium, and cheered the PMC football team in its' game against Lebanon Valley College. The evening found the cadets and midshipmen enjoying the Military Ball, sponsored by Company Q5, Pershing Rifles, at MacMorland Center.

Cadets and Midshipmen from various colleges take the review.

The Pershing Rifle sponsored Military Ball, highlighted the days' activities.

Battery Robinett contributed its six pound field cannon, used as a centerpiece, with Pershing Rifle awards on display.

That evening, the cadets danced to the exotic music of "The Music Men."

Cdt. R. Hostrup models Revolutionary War uniform.

Cdt. G. Beauregard models a Civil War uniform.

During one of the bands' breaks, the Ranger Platoon presented an Infantry Pageant. Members of the Platoon modeled various period uniforms, while Dr. C. Smith read the epic poem, "I Am The Infantry."

Cdt. D. Grealish models the World War II uniform of the Infantryman.

